

NSF SUMMER TRAINING 2010

In Field Methods And Research Design

Field Methods

in Bolivia for Ph.D. students

June 13 – July 18

Now in its 7th year, this training program takes place among the Tsimane', a native Amazonian society of farmers and foragers in Bolivia and is directed by R. Godoy (Brandeis). Training focuses on methods to collect ecological, demographic, economic, cognitive, anthropometric, and health data. The training builds on and is informed by a panel study in progress since 1999, and lasts five weeks. Tentative instructors include V. Reyes-García (Brandeis and U. Barcelona), L. Gravlee (Florida), O. Heffetz (Cornell), C. Morsello (Sao Paulo), W. Leonard (Northwestern), and S. Tanner (Georgia).

Research Design

for Ph.D. students

July 19 – August 6

Now in its 15th year, the Summer Institute for Research Design in Cultural Anthropology (SIRD) is for Ph.D. students who are writing their research proposals. The three-week course focuses on research design and the writing of a scientifically well-conceived proposal. It also provides an introduction to methods for collecting and analyzing qualitative and quantitative data.

Workshops in Research Methods in Anthropology

for all cultural anthropologists

These one-day workshops are offered at the meetings of the AAA and the SfAA. See the Methods Mall (below) for current offerings.
